The 2016 Rosso di Montalcino opens to bright intensity and careful balance. The wine shows fresh berry flavors of cassis and wild cherry on the one hand with mild structure, texture and acidic tension on the other. Those fruit tones are layered with delightful tones of ash, wet earth and mild spice. This wine would pair perfectly with white meat or your favorite chicken dish, whether roasted, fried or grilled. Some 12,000 bottles were made.
